

Requiem

Gabriella Rose

I don't go to the movies anymore
I haven't seen one play since I last saw your face
And I don't walk in the park anymore
The trees lost all their leaves, what else is there to see?

Ooh, I stopped dreaming
I always hit the ceiling
You take the money and run
Ooh, I'm so heartsick for a place that don't exist
Your heart is shaped like a gun

I don't sing those songs anymore
It's like a faded word on some forgotten billboard
I don't cry my heart out anymore
I face the day with lies
And, I come back with goodbyes

Ooh, I stopped dreaming
I always hit the ceiling
You take the money and run
Ooh, I'm so homesick for a place that don't exist
Your heart is shaped like a gun
Ooh, I stopped dreaming
I always hit the ceiling
You take the money and run
Ooh, I'm so homesick for a place that don't exist
Your heart is shaped like a gun
