

Except For You

Gabrielle Aplin

My word is empty except for you,
So can we decorate the night,
I will put you in charge of arranging all the stars,
'Cause everything is out of place except for you.

And I have no words except for you,
But I will try to write them down,
'Cause It appears I forgot where the story even started,
And I could never say you write the way you do.

And I am mislead,
All exposed but I'm sad.

It's pandemonium and I am swept away,
It's pandemonium but I won't be over powered,
So don't you take your eyes off me,
'Cause We are becoming to be.

And It's all a game except for you,
But aren't you scared to break the rules,
So I wait and domino for a moment to fall over,
I am only standing still to wait for you.

And I am mislead,
All exposed but I'm sad.

It's pandemonium and I am swept away,
It's pandemonium but I won't be over powered,
So don't you take your eyes off me,
'Cause We are becoming to be.

And I won't try to break the silence,
And I won't mind how long It takes,
No excuses...
No mistakes...

My word is empty except for you,
So can we decorate the night,
I will put you in charge of arranging all the stars,
'Cause everything is out of place except for you.
