Predictable

Gabrielle Aplin

I'm tied up
I'm sick of letting you down
Suffer in silence
So many times we lose count
Not even worth it
I'm giving less than I take
You don't deserve this
I say that I'm gonna change

This time I mean it
Don't you believe me?
Every time I say I'm sorry
You never fight me, no
You know how this goes
I never meant to be so predictable
I never meant to be so predictable
I never meant to be so predictable

We're out of hand now
There's nothing certain nowhere
We keep our plans down
I threw them up in the air
Was there a first time?
Did you ever impose?
That be last time
It's like you already know

This time I mean it
Don't you believe me?
Every time I say I'm sorry
You never fight me, no
You know how this goes
I never meant to be so predictable
I never meant to be so predictable
I never meant to be so predictable

I hope you know that when you're gone
I'll miss you both
Oh what have I done?
I hope you know that when I'm gone
I'll miss us both
What have I done?

This time I mean it
I never meant to be so predictable
I never meant to be so predictable
(This time I mean it)
I never meant to be so predictable
Don't you believe me?
I never meant to be so predictable
(I never meant to be so predictable)
