

Remember Me

Gabriels

My love, your devotion
The perfect storm set this thing in motion
Infatuation took me by surprise
But now I see nothing when I look into your eyes

Give a little time
Space to breathe
A little room, baby
To remember me
A little time
For us to feel
The guiding light, baby
The only thing that's real
Ooooh

What kind of woman would want to shame a man?
After I did everything, all that I can
As the years gone by we've grown with the pain
But I just can't keep standing in the rain

Give a little time
Space to breathe
A little room, baby
To remember me
A little time
For us to feel
The guiding light, baby
The only thing that's real

I haven't been myself in so long
Though I try to hide it we both know
This broken heart is trying to hold on Hold on

Give a little time
Space to breathe
A little room, baby
To remember me (ooh)
A little time
For us to feel
The guiding light, baby
The only thing that's real

Give a little time
Space to breathe
A little room, baby
I gotta remember me
A little time, a little time
For us to feel
The guiding light, baby
The only thing that's real
