

Regardless

Galactic Industry

Everywhere I look with my eyes
I feel negative charge
By the help of false masque
It deceives tireless men

All the people differ from the others
By their angle of life
What they place on the outside
Regardless of all

All in print I digest every day
For my feelings
Nothing lurks me
Maybe future will enable me
To perceive hidden things

All the people differ from the others
By their angle of life
What they place on the outside
Regardless of all

All the people differ from the others
By their angle of life
What they place on the outside
Regardless of all

Regardless of all...
Regardless of all...

All the people differ from the others
By their angle of life
What they place on the outside
Regardless of all

All the people differ from the others
By their angle of life
What they place on the outside
Regardless of all
