

Belt Up

Galahad

Open your arms, embrace a new dawn

It's almost here

Can you feel it creeping up behind you....?

Belt up and brace yourselves, now is our time

Take a deep breath and hold on to the wire

This is the start of something so good

People get ready for the ride of your lives

If you believe that you'll believe anything!

Open your arms and embrace a new dawn

Grasp the windows of opportunity and make them your own

It maybe a touch idealistic but we've all got to have a dream

Life without focus is no life at all

The excitement is mounting

It's all too much to bear
