

Centigrade.

Gallant

Losing sleep from accusations
Icy conversations we don't get back
Touch-and-go, it's worth the wait
But how's the hesitation going to fight that cold weather?
Can't say it's springtime forever
Forever, babe

Would hate for guilt to be the driving force in a carnal tug of war
Past ain't the present, babe
Keep it copacetic, skim the waves, though ripples try to make it change course
Some pit stops, caught in the crosswinds, lucky for us we're in the same boat
Mercury drops and then we get the cold feet, it's not a mystery, nature's flow

We keep
Losing sleep from accusations
Icy conversations we don't get back
Touch-and-go, it's worth the wait
But how's the hesitation going to fight that cold weather?
Can't say it's springtime forever
Forever, babe

I'm losing sleep
It's winter to me
If I could just hibernate
But you said I'm worth the wait
Seasons just flow
We'll come and go
So are we just wasting time
Or should we let fate decide?
And I know that it can't be springtime forever
But how do we make it through the seasons together?

Why get stuck between the lines, baby?
Rumination running wild, baby
Misconceptions magnified, babe
Can't we take it all in stride, babe?
Captains on the Great Divide, baby
Rumination running wild, baby
Move closer to the pilot light, baby
Can't we take it all in stride?
Instead of
