Expectations

Gallant

Didn't like me in the first meeting
I learned that from you
Clothes that you gave me didn't fit
The life didn't, too
Mirrors were my best friend
'Cause they told me the truth
Oh-whoa, and I just wouldn't do

Know that you always meant well
But it felt like a slap in the face
Maybe you'll finally get it some day

Believe me, I had different expectations, too
So sure that I would end up just like you
I know that you laid it all out for me
For a second I thought it could be right for me
Oh, I had different expectations, too
Believe me, I had different expectations, too

Told you I'm not the type to commit, but
I broke my own rules
Claiming that my love was counterfeit
Sounds like another excuse
You blame it on the distance, uh
But you can't show me the proof
Oh, I do everything to win but I lose
You say you

Know that I always meant well
But you keep makin' up new mistakes, 'cause
You gotta get out your own way, babe

Believe me, I had different expectations, too
So sure that I would end up just like you
I know that you laid it all out for me
For a second I thought it could be right for me
Oh, I had different expectations, too
Believe me, I had different expectations, too

I really thought it would be me and you
Believe me, I had different expectations, too
