

Changing

Garrett Kato

Sorry I've been acting strange and maybe just a little too quiet

Trying to work it through myself but it's too hard to hide it
No, it's not been the same since

Everything changed when

You went away, but I don't know what I would even say now
So I'm looking through the past now

Feel like there's something that's changing in me

Don't know exactly where I'm supposed to be

Is this just somewhere that I'll never see?

Feel like there's something that's changing in me

Not looking for forgiveness but I know one day I'll find myself own

It's easier than walking through the fire that we both know

Now nothing's the same but

Everything changed us

You and I could be the ones for someone else

So I'm standing here beside myself

Feel like there's something that's changing in me

Don't know exactly where I'm supposed to be

Is this just somewhere that I'll never see?

Feel like there's something that's changing in me

Feel like there's something that's changing in me

Don't know exactly where I'm supposed to be

Is this just somewhere that I'll never see?

Feel like there's something that's changing in me
