Easy

Garrett Kato

So it's been nice to know you
Hope life's good for you
All these changing winds that carry us apart now

Know that I'm rooting for you
Everything you do from us
Cause I'm looking back more than you thought I would

Loving you is easy when I'm not holding on
Loving you is easy when you're almost gone
But I get up, I get down sometimes
When loving you is easy, it's too late to try

It's too late to try

Walking through the doors that open
My feelings overflowing
But I don't follow you this time around

You've been fine and you show it
I won't place blame on your lips
That I know someday will be laughing all about this

Loving you is easy when I'm not holding on
Loving you is easy when you're almost gone
But I get up, I get down sometimes
When loving you is easy it's too late to try

It's too late to try

(Loving you is easy when I'm not holding on)
(Loving you is easy when you're almost gone)
(Loving you is easy when I'm not holding on)
(Loving you is easy when you're almost gone)
