

Firestarter

Garrett Kato

I wonder if you'll ever even know
How I wish to be so close
To you, but I guess I'll go
And think about it most of the day
I wonder if my luck'll ever change
And I can hold you in my arms

Oh, you're my fire-starter
You lit me up and kept me warm most nights
And I'm not sure if this is wrong or right
Keep burning out every time I'm apart from you
I can't control this feeling I might lose
And it's not something that I'm tryna prove
When I tell you that I'm missing you

I wonder if you'll ever understand
How I long to be your man
But it's his eyes you're looking at
And I'll be there to take your hand
When your heart is on the mend
I'll give you all that I can

Oh, you're my fire-starter
You lit me up and kept me warm most nights
And I'm not sure if this is wrong or right
Keep burning out every time I'm apart from you
I can't control this feeling I might lose
And it's not something that I'm tryna prove
When I tell you that I'm missing you

(Holding on to anything)
(Don't think that I'll be the same)
(Will your love be here to stay?)

Oh, you're my fire-starter
You lit me up and kept me warm most nights
And I'm not sure if this is wrong or right
Keep burning out every time I'm apart from you
I can't control this feeling I might lose
And it's not something that I'm tryna prove
When I tell you that I'm missing you
