

Mountain Climbing

Garrett Kato

I just don't know
Myself anymore
I get the feeling I should run out the door

And many times
I been traveling alone
Been tied down like a dog without a bone

You see me running through that fire and ice
And hypnotized by the truth in your lies

Should I keep climbing the mountain
Should I keep fighting the seas
Should I keep going forever
Till I can't even breathe

I just don't know anyone anymore
Can't see no shelter here from the storm
And many times
I been traveling alone
Been tied down like a dog without a bone

You see me running through that fire and ice
And hypnotized by the truth in your games

Should I keep climbing the mountain
Should I keep fighting the seas
Should I keep going forever
Till I can't even breathe
