

Love Lost Freedom Found

Gary Go

It's a life, it's a life
But it's not the one I wanted
It's all right, it's all right
If I see you in the morning
Oh, I don't want to stay here, but I have to, 'cause it's the Last place that I'll bump into you

Under snow, wait for it to fall
We were friends and we became more
Try to imagine it from my side
I've been on a vigil since the last night
Under ice, try to smash it through
Trapped, as I freeze to the color blue
Try to imagine it from my side
Lies, lies

It's the morning, wake me now
Hold me close and love me to the bone
By tomorrow, there'll be no doubt
In a love lost, there's a freedom found

It's the night, it's the night
Another night where I'll be lonely
Next to me, next to me
Is where you used to get to know me
No, I don't wanna lay here but I have to
'Cause it's the last place that I lay next to you

Under snow, wait for it to fall
We were friends and we became more
Try to imagine it from my side
I've been on a vigil since the last night
Under rain, wait for it to dry
Love's so guilty with no alibi
Try to imagine it from my side
Lies, lies

It's the morning, wake me now
Hold me close and love me to the bone
By tomorrow, there'll be no doubt
In a love lost, there's a freedom found

The devil's gonna hear my song
The devil's gonna hear my song
I dare the devil to carry on when he hears my song
