

Broke Window

Gary Jules

- C                F                C
1. Loaded tongue and dirty fingers
C                F                G
Queen of her mother's house
F                C                F                C
Come step outside feeling full moon high
F                C                G                C
Let's see what we can live without
2. Fix an eye to the dimestore villain
Waiting for the wine to pour
It comes strong and thin and it tastes like sin
The love we've all been in before
- F                C                G
R: A million ways to burn
C                F                C                F
I'm just looking out of this old broke window
C                G                C
And she's taking a turn
F                C                F                C                F
I'm looking out of this old broke window
C                G                C
And she's taking a turn
3. Her body lies like a landscape before you
You're selling your soul by the pound
Got snakeoil in spades for the wolftickets trade
You look but don't see me around
