

Look, Here Comes The Sun

Gary Lewis & The Playboys

Turn to the east
Watch for the dawn
The night we loved in
Is now nearly gone

Whoa, look, here comes the sun
Look, here comes the sun
So, I'll kiss you
We'll count to ten, and then
It'll be time to join the world again

Turn to the sky
Rest your head on the sand
The sun reaches high
And I reach for your hand

Whoa, look, here comes the sun
Look, here comes the sun
I wish we could stay, another day
Yes, I say
It'll be time to wish the world away

The night before was such a short time ago
But it's no good to pretend
The day is here, says it's time we must go
I could wish it would never end

Look, here comes the sun
Look, here comes the sun
So, I'll kiss you
We'll count to ten, and then
It'll be time to join the world again

Whoa, look, here comes the sun
Look, here comes the sun
Look, here comes the sun
Look, here comes the sun
Look, here comes the sun
Look
