

Picture On The Wall

Gary Moore

Well, your picture done faded now, baby
The one you left hanging on the wall
I said, your picture done faded now, baby
The one you left hanging on the wall
You know it faded so nasty
I can't see your face at all

You know that old clock is still ticking
The one you left hanging on the side
I said, that clock is still ticking
Well, it's got my mind a wondering
Maybe I should take a freight train and ride

Well, I would have done caught me a freight train
But there ain't no one going my way
I said, I would have done caught me a freight train
But there ain't no one going my way
If I don't see you sometime soon
I hope I'll meet you one rainy day
