The Wind Cries Mary

Gary Moore

After all the jacks are in their boxes, And the clowns have all gone to bed, You can hear happiness staggering on down the street, Footprints dress in red.

And the wind whispers Mary.

A broom is drearily sweeping Up the broken pieces of yesterday's life. Somewhere a Queen is weeping, Somewhere a King has no wife.

And the wind cries Mary.

The traffic lights turn blue tomorrow Shine their emptiness down on my bed The tiny island sags downstream 'Cause the life that they lived is dead.

And the wind screams Mary.

Oh oh yeah

Will the wind ever remember
The names it has blown in the past
With it's crutch, it's old age and it's wisdom
It whispers, "No, this will be the last."

And the wind cries Mary.
