

You Never Change

Gateway Worship

Even in the why
In the middle of the night, I say
"You are good"
Though my prayers are heard the response is Yours, God
You are good
Sorrow may last the whole night, but joy comes in the morning light
You are good and You never change, God
You are good and You never change, God
You are good, and You never change Your ways
You are good and You never change, God
You are good and You never change, God
You are good and You never change Your ways

When the arrows fly,
I will stand behind the Truth
That You are good
You tell my heart, "be still"
And so, God, I will
'cause I know
Oh, I know, that You're good, yes
You are good and You never change, God
You are good and You never change, God
You are good and You never change Your ways
Oh, yes
You are good and You never change, God
You are good and You never change, God
You are good and You never change Your ways
You are the sunrise, You are the sunrise
There is no mistaking Your Light
You are faithful, God You are faithful
You have never left my side
You are the sunrise, You are the sunrise
There is no mistaking Your light
You are faithful, God You are faithful

No, You've never left my side

Never leave, You never leave, God

Yeah, oh
You are good and You never change, God
You are good and You never change, God
You are good and You never change Your ways

You are good and You never change
You are good and You never change, God
You are good and You never change Your ways

You are good and You never change, God
You are good and you never change, God
You are good and You never change Your ways
You are good and You never change, God
You are good and You never change, God
You are good and You never change Your ways

You are good and You never change Your ways
No, You never change, God
Your love it just goes on and on and on and on
You have, You have perfect timing
