

All I Need

Gavin Adcock

Gonna watch that spinner bait roll through the water as the morning starts to show
Topped off the tank, got a GP biscuit and an ice-cold Coke
And I was raised where you work for a dollar, yeah, it's never gonna grow on trees
Some wild-yard youngings and a God-fearing woman, this is all I need

And you might think I'm simple
You might think I live low
You can take and shove them big city lights
This is all I need

Feeling them kisses just slide down her back, God almighty, she's looking so fine
Cheap burning candle and some heavy dim lights and a jug of wine
Got some bare-feet dancing on an old wood floor, never felt nothing so damn strong
Some holding you close and some "I love you"s to a George Strait song

And you might think I'm simple
You might think I live low
You can take and shove them big city lights
This is all I need

Gonna pull back on that Old Farm Drive, feed some cows with my old man
Sit on the porch and talk to Momma and hold her hand
Sure ain't sorry 'bout where I'm from, or bleeding this blood I bleed
Some red-and-white stripes with some blue-and-white stars, this is all I need

And you might think I'm simple
You might think I live low
You can take and shove them big city lights
This is all I need
