

The Only One

Gavin Friday

You got the kindness of strangers, the trust of true friends
I'll promise you nothing, you're burning both ends
Your heart's wish is vacant, your love's up for sale
A sweet smell so fragrant, it's pulling my tail

We don't notice a thing... We don't notice each other
A touch soft on your tongue... And we're kissing forever

All the heat in your empire is hitting you hard
And the blood in your veins is not where you are
So lets dance in slow tempo, bad memory erased
By the finger of Buddha, healing all that are crazed

We don't notice a thing... We don't notice each other
A touch soft on your tongue... and we're kissing forever

I'm turning blue... You don't see...
I look to God and you... You look to me... to me

We don't notice a thing... We don't notice each other
A touch soft on your tongue... and we're kissing forever

You are, you are, the only one for me... You are, you are, the only one for me
You are, you are, the only one for me... You are, you are, the only one for me
The only one for me...
