

Heavy

Gavin James

Oooh I'm
Better than I was back then
Even though
We're not even close to friends

And I'm sorry if I stole you
If I slowed you down
But If I'm gonna lose you
Who's gonna hold you now

I'm on fire
With wild desire
Take me higher
Oh I know that your heart won't stay
So I'll learn to hide mine away
I'll stitch it up, laugh it off, it's not enough
When'd it ever get so heavy?
Heavy

Ooh I wish
That I could be a better man
But I hold it on the inside
I'm sick of all the struggling
I know I could've told you, could've told you then
I know your dreams may have come True
But I'm not part of them

I'm on fire
With wild desire
Take me higher
Oh I know that your heart won't stay
So I'll learn to hide mine away
I'll stitch it up, laugh it off, it's not enough
When'd it ever get so heavy?
Heavy

I only hope now
Any second you would Call me Up
I'll keep my head down
Time always runs out
I count the hours just to call it love
But you won't...

So I'm on fire
With wild desire
Take me higher
Oh I know that your heart won't stay
So I'll learn to hide mine away
I'll stitch it up, laugh it off, it's not enough
When'd it ever get so heavy?
Heavy
When'd it ever get so heavy?
