

Lost Without You

Gavin James

I always follow wherever you'd go
Without you oh what would I do?
'Cause it's you that I'm made of
And I know you're made of me

Tonight I miss you
Your face on the pillow
If I wrote a song about you
I'd choose only the good notes
And sing when you asked me to

Well, maybe I'm selfish, but what can I do?
I don't wanna live in a world without you
It might sound crazy, and I might be wrong
But there's just no point in me moving on
I'd rather be dying than lost in a world without you

'Cause you were the only little part of me
I thought that I'd never lose
If you were cracks on the pavement, I'd be tripping all over you

Well, maybe I'm selfish, but what can I do?
I don't wanna live in a world without you
It might sound crazy, and I might be wrong
But there's just no point in me moving on
Am I so stupid or am I just blind?
Maybe I'm just not the loving kind
I'd rather be dying than lost in a world without you

Am I so stupid or am I just blind?
And maybe I'm just not the loving kind
I'd rather be dying than lost in a world without you

I'd rather be dying than be lost in a world without you