

Man On The Moon

Gavin James

Have you heard the story 'bout the man on the moon?
He was so lonely, you could see on the news
Everyone loved him, but he never knew
Reminds me of someone, somebody like you

So don't you get lost in all of that space
Just gather your tears up and throw them away
We will remember the man on the moon
How he looked down at the world like one big balloon

But I want you to see
So won't you fly away with me
Until all the lanes and avenues
Will fade away from view
Until all of the world is green and blue
And all the stars have moved
I'd still love you
Like I always do

Like I always do

Have you heard the story 'bout the man on the moon?
He was so lonely, you could see on the news
Everyone loved him, but he never knew
Reminds me of someone, somebody like you
