

Die For You

GAWNE

It was a cold December night in 1938
The wind was howling so loud, no one could hear what was about to take place
Federal judge Wallace was alone in his study when a notorious villain Silver
Skull broke into his home
Behind him stood a stone-cold henchman holding a suitcase full of humanities' biggest crutch - Greed
But judge Wallace refused
You see, going against Silver Skull cost him his life
My question is: will it cost me mine?

Where did I go wrong?
Lay awake and I think about you every night that you're gone
Wanna move on from the high-low
Really what do I know
You gon' put a knife in my heart
I don't want you to find my scars
Gettin' hard to hide 'em, where did I go wrong?
Where did I go?
Wait a minute, am I really in denial?

Shootin' like a missile out the silo
I been on my "If I can't have you" shit "Then I'd rather fuckin' die" though
High-low, sippin' on the Henny as I drive slow
Imma put this car into a mothafuckin' lightpole
I'm in psycho mode
And I might go over
I'm hangin' off the ledge
Went off my meds
Been prayin' that this darkness ends before I
(Fall to my death)

Where did I go wrong?
Lay awake and I think about you every night that you're gone
Wanna move on from the high-low
Really what do I know
You gon' put a knife in my heart
(Where did I go wrong?)

Where did I go wrong?
All the times we used to fight so hard
Til you fall and you cry in my arms
Tellin' me that you're sorry and I was right all along
All the times that you cheated and you lied, did me wrong
I been nice for too long
Bring the demon outta me
Take the knife out my back and put it right through your arm
Leave a scar big enough to recognize from afar
What's the difference when today will be the same as tomorrow
Yeah, nothin' ever changes with you, you keep on breakin' my heart
So what you take me for?
A guy who tries to always believe in, even when lied to

I've been to hell and it's bleak
I put the pistol to my temple as I'm goin' to sleep
I take an issue with the fact that you were [?] for me
So now I'm lyin' here dyin' screamin'
(Where did I go wrong?)

Where did I go wrong?
Lay awake and I think about you every night that you're gone
Wanna move on from the high-low
Really what do I know
You gon' put a knife in my heart
