

Missing You

GAWNE

Oh, I been missing you
Yeah, oh, never thought I'd lose you

It's like, oh, look at what you made me do
I'm driving 95 on my way to you
She's insane but I'm crazy too, so baby
I'm not afraid if we got to break the rules
Like Bonnie and Clyde, ride or die
I confided in you how many times?
She got trouble being vulnerable
Secrets I don't fully know
Yet I drink her poison like Romeo
And it's killing me slowly
Why is it the that every time I'm with you it's lonely
No I'm not the only one in your phone because
The person that I love is a phony

So we break up, play rough, make love
Make up, they hate us
Don't give a fuck, straight up
Said you love me then you gave up
Baby why the fuck you been a stranger

Oh, I been missing you
Yeah, oh, never thought I'd lose you

I know you're cheating
I'm reading you like a diary
The elephant in the room is the irony
The moonlight illuminates you like ivory
All the hoops that you moving through just to lie to me
You're never gonna kiss and then tell
I don't wanna be wishing you well
Cause you put me through hell
With the way that we fell out
And you're with someone else now
They're under you spellbound
We used to meltdown, tell and shout
Like some hellhounds
And it hurts you weren't honest at first
But I learned time was the best
To heal the trauma, when I was down in the dirt
You deserted me when down at my worst
And I really was feeling depressed
But I'm finally growing I guess
Now I know what I'm my worth

So we break up, play rough, make love
Make up, they hate us
Don't give a fuck, straight up
Said you love me then you gave up
Baby why the fuck you been a stranger

Oh, I been missing you
Yeah, oh, never thought I'd lose you
