

Rescue Me

GAWNE

I've been lost in the dark
Slowly falling apart
I been on my own too long
Is loneliness where I belong?
I've been down in the deep
Drifting off into sea
Maybe I'm just far too gone
Is anybody out there?
Can anybody rescue me?

S.O.S it's time to sound thee alarm
But nobody's gonna save me no I'm far too gone
I'ma lost cause
Always caused you harm
This is just what I deserve
It's time we all moved on
I send a rose to my mother when I go
Ain't no hope in the struggle
I don't know why I've chosen to suffer all alone
Always up against these lows
Knees buckle as I crumble to the floor
In this hole that I've shoveled
D-d-dig in as I lift ground
Six feet down
Isn't deep enough to help him
As I delve in thee abyss
How's a bottomless pit holding all my sins?
When I think about you man I just fall right in

I've been lost in the dark
Slowly falling apart
I been on my own too long
Is loneliness where I belong?
I've been down in the deep
Drifting off into sea
Maybe I'm just far too gone
Is anybody out there?
Can anybody rescue me?

So what the fuck you gonna say now?
People think they know me
But they never knew my problems
We probably don't got the same amount
What can y'all complain about?
I am not some lame child
That's sitting on the playground
Or living in a plainer house
Kid I'll be crazy til' the day I'm gone
When I'm like eighty dog
And one of them angels call me to heaven
Until then I hasten
I'm taking off at a speed that's breaking laws
It's pedal to the metal gotta make it
'Fore the reaper come in and take it all
But I stay strong cause I got faith involved
As the sky turns black
And heavy rain then falls

Wash away my sins
But it won't erase these scars
Man it just breaks my heart
Looking at all the pain I've cause
No time to turn back now
I've runaway too far

I've been lost in the dark
Slowly falling apart
I been on my own too long
Is loneliness where I belong?
I've been down in the deep
Drifting off into sea
Maybe I'm just far too gone
Is anybody out there?
Can anybody rescue me?

They say when the winds change
It's probably gon' bring rain
The sun is so far down
And I can feel something hang over me like a darn cloud
The sky is so dark now
That I see the stars out
Awake in the nighttime
Afraid what I might find
Went off of the deep end
I'm not in my right mind
I'm out of my right mind
I'm out of my right mind
I'm not in my right mind!
Can anybody rescue me
And throw me a lifeline
Yeah I been through the highs and the lows
Still can see the demons when my eyes are closed
Like what the fuck am I here for?
It's no wondering I ain't looking to the sky anymore

I've been lost in the dark
Slowly falling apart
I been on my own too long
Is loneliness where I belong?
I've been down in the deep
Drifting off into sea
Maybe I'm just far too gone
Is anybody out there?
Can anybody rescue me?
