

Bombs

Gaz Coombes

Here come the bombs
What a lonely view
As I tear away
Breaking sound, speeding down to burn up the night
And I can't see the face of the faded ones who fell this time

We must be lost I cannot see through the space and time
But there's others over here
You're not on your own
They'll fear it when the sleeping ghosts
All wake up