

The Unexpected

GBH

Be on guard twenty four-seven there'll be no warning shot keep looking over your shoulder protecting what you've got take a look from the dark side optimism don't get a chance be ready for a rough ride Brace yourself for the last dance

it's lightning striking twice you're rolling loaded dice expect the unexpected and expect it all your life

Are they lurking round the corner when you step off the curb there's no one there to warn you you think you've lost your nerve take a look from the dark side optimism don't get a chance
be ready for a rough ride
Brace yourself for the last dance

it's lightning striking twice you're rolling loaded dice
expect the unexpected and expect it all your life

the knife it twists and twists a tension still exists don't relax you ain't got time Lick your wounds, get on with it your peace and quiet gets shattered you're sure that you are next you've got no-one to turn to because your theory's perplex....

take a look from the dark side optimism don't get a chance
be ready for a rough ride
Brace yourself for the last dance

Lightning striking twice, rolling loaded dice
Expect the unexpected and expect it all your life
Lightning striking twice, rolling loaded dice
Expect the unexpected and expect it all your life