

Broken Reflection

Gemini Syndrome

I feel like I am turning into some one else
Now I don't even recognize this version of myself
I can smell the poison hanging in the air
You promised me enlightenment
But you've never even been there

We are a broken reflection you can't see
A scattered reminder of your shattered dreams
A broken reflection, you and me
It's dragging me under, it's so hard to breathe
We are your broken reflection

(Broken reflection)

You gave me my religion, then you kicked me in the teeth
You told me that I'm perfect just as long as I'm not me
You gave me all the answers, but you left out all the facts
You held my hand and guided me
Then you stabbed me in the back
You stabbed me

We are a broken reflection you can't see
A scattered reminder of your shattered dreams
A broken reflection, you and me
It's dragging me under, it's so hard to breathe
We are your broken reflection

We're just a broken reflection
Of everything that's ever been
Your shattered walls of perception
Of everything you hold within
We're just a broken reflection
Of everything that's ever been
Your shattered walls of perception
Of everything you hold within

We're just a broken reflection you can't see
A scattered reminder of your shattered dreams
A broken reflection, you and me
It's dragging me under, it's so hard to breathe
We are your, we are your
We are your broken reflection
