

Desperation

Gene Watson

On this lonely bed I'm lying deep inside my mind just crying
Far away to break this hold she has on me
I wish that she would call but the phone upon the wall
Seems to turn the time into eternity

She keeps walking through my brain lord and I can't stand the s train
That face in light without her brings to mind
Hurtin' heavy hanging on realizin' that she's gone
That is only desperation that I find

Desperation has a hold upon my body and my soul
Loving her was all I had and now I lost control Help me make it to tomorrow lord send me down your soothing wor d
And calm this desperation in my soul

Lord the world is filled with others who were broken hearted lo vers
And I know they must have faced the night like this Empty heart and all alone hurtin' clear down to the bone
Reeving life into a sweet remembered kiss

Life is just an endless motion yet I can't dispell the notion That without her loving I can't make it through Now dreaming daydreams of the past knowing I have seen the last
Of her love and there's nothing I can do

Desperation has a hold upon my body and my soul
Help me calm this desperation in my soul
