

She's Already Gone

Gene Watson

She still wears her wedding band
I've never seen it off her hand
Then she's there every day when I get home
She still kisses me goodnight
But when I look into her eyes
I know that she's already gone

Her heart's already packed up all her feelings
Her mind's already wondering where she'll go
When she's in my arms I know I'm not holding her
She hasn't said goodbye but she's already gone

She's waiting for a way to leave
A way out without hurting me
I don't know how long this can go on
So I'll cherish every single day
From now till she walks away
'Cause I know that she's already gone

Her heart's already packed up all her feelings
Her mind's already wondering where she'll go
When she's in my arms I know I'm not holding her
She hasn't said goodbye but she's already gone
She hasn't said goodbye but she's already gone
