Generationals

Baby, you are
Baby, you are
Babe, babe
Baby, you are
Baby, you are
Babe, babe
Baby, you are
Baby, you are
Babe, babe
Baby, you are
Baby, you are
Babe, babe

Now that I can see you have come to take my place
Would you keep me company
Had a vision of a time I wanted to forget
Now I'm a victim of my pride and vanity

Well, the good days are gone and
I'm sad you won't look back
'Cause I would still love you
I was just thinking of
Everything you never said
I would still love you

Baby, you are
Baby, you are
Babe, babe
Baby, you are
Baby, you are
Babe, babe
Baby, you are
Baby, you are
Babe, babe
Baby, you are
Baby, you are
Babe, babe

Had a vision of a time I wanted to forget
Now I'm a victim of my pride and vanity

Your pause for the moments
Look out into the far distance
This is how it usually begins
Layer by layer, bit by bit

Well, the good days are gone and
I'm sad you won't look back
'Cause I would still love you
I was just thinking of
Everything you never said
And I would still love you

Well, the good days are gone and
I'm sad you won't look back
'Cause I would still love you
