

Catahoula Man

Generational

I spent a long time holding out for a miracle
Open my eyes and now it's too late to play the long game

I thought you knew of that the lone possibility
Get around to your problems before they get around to you
I remember all of the ways you tried to make me feel,
But that don't mean nothing if there's nothing you can do

And all the while I thought we were the last of the last ones
And I know you're not afraid to make somebody pray to you
Twenty-five days and a broken back for the hell of it
So I'll never deny you and I'll get nothing by you when I do

Hold on now just a little bit to go
Catahoula Man
Get a little bit better before you know

I offer to talk about credibility
The way you stick it to your neighbors the way they give it back to you?
Ever wonder why the ones you had got too real for you
But that don't mean nothing if there's nothing you can do

Hold on now just a little bit to go
Catahoula Man
Get a little bit better before you know

Hold on now just a little bit to go
Catahoula Man
Get a little bit better before you know

Hold on now just a little bit to go
Catahoula Man
Get a little bit better before you know

Hold on now just a little bit to go
Catahoula Man
Get a little bit better before you know

Hold on now just a little bit to go
Catahoula Man
Get a little bit better before you know
