

Waking Moment

Generacionals

Oh my sweet love
I know I'll never get
To remind you of
The days that you regret

I'll write these letter to you
I'll throw your coffin shade
No matter what you said
The thing that you regret

When every waking moment
Is the place where you fall
When every waking moment
Is the place where you fall
When every waking moment
Is the place where you fall
And it seems to last so long

Spare me your worst
Maybe if I stay a while
I saw you first
Standing in the peristyle

Find me just ten years older
Not much has seemed to change
How did you just forget
The thing that you regret

When every waking moment
Is the place where you fall
When every waking moment
Is the place where you fall
When every waking moment
Is the place where you fall
And it seems to last so long

Oh my sweet love
I hear the curtain call
Disabuse me of
That notion after all

I'll write these letters to you
Not much has seemed to change
No matter what you said
The thing that you regret

When every waking moment
Is the place where you fall
When every waking moment
Is the place where you fall
When every waking moment
Is the place where you fall
And it seems to last so long
And it seems to last so long
And it seems to last so long
