

Xeno Bobby

Generationals

Xeno Bobby

You tell yourself you're different than me
Where does the time go
Seems like a day ago I heard you say you'd never leave

A hundred bones

Would pay to see your face when you get home
I bet you thought you could wait to Keep all your stories straight
You know you're better off alone

Xeno Bobby, what did you do?

The things you said are coming back to you
Apart from all the regrets you're
So easy to forget, you're already a relic too

Wake me on the day

You give a shit what other people say
Remember youth is a time bomb
The longer you hold on the sooner you evaporate
