

And I've just been waiting for my luck to change
(Said to change, and to change, and to change)
My body been swimmin' inside my own disdain
(Said disdain, disdain, disdain)
And I've just been waiting for my love to stay
(Said to stay, and to stay, and to stay)
Been lost in the pavement because it's only one way
(Yeah one way)

Put the trigger where he breathe
Watch the wall be splattered, technicolour dreams
Sewin' seeds, and my cap's been cratered, callin' on the fees
I'm sewin' seams, so it seems
Not only scratching from my DJ
It only took them three J's for them to hit that replay
Finally getting recognition without brother CK
And these days my thoughts been broad and casting on the freeway
The doors been widened but walls been closing
The expectation in the carpet been soaking
Parables of the chosen
And delusion's got aromas that'll waft a brother wayward
The skin inside my teeth, inside my mouth had gotten sabre
The pools of eyes around me, they can't wait for me to change up
Soon as I refuse the ruse of giving up my paper
Got it, granted, this is what you want from me, my Dome been shattered, sharded up philosophies, and
I've been scanning for those who ain't forgotten me, but Porcelain patterns make it hard for eyes to see

And I've just been waiting for my luck to change
(Said to change, and to change, and to change)
My body been swimmin' inside my own disdain
(Said disdain, disdain, disdain)
And I've just been waiting for my love to stay
(Said to stay, and to stay, and to stay)
Been lost in the pavement because it's only one way
(Yeah one way)

Happiness been hidden in the camouflage
Of self-awareness, money and the sabotage
Don't get me wrong, I love myself, I do
I just wish the measurement was really in them jewels, like
The way they put 'em on and acting such a fool, like Autobots, Deceptions, been trappin' something cruel, and
I've been getting props round from the bar down to the school
I just hope they understand that I must transform to a tool

It's just around the corner...
We're here
