

Living Forever

Genesis

I'm feeling so confused today they've gone and changed the rules again cos in my life I'm trying hard to do it all so I can remain healthy and sane

I'll live forever, always one more tomorrow living forever, always one more tomorrow

I heard it on the radio too much of what they said wasn't so and now we've got to do those things that they thought before were so wrong to be healthy and strong and live forever, always one more tomorrow

living forever, always one more tomorrow

I know we don't need you I know we don't believe you you don't really have the answers you think you know better you think it really matters you just want to rule over everybody's lives

I think I'll change my life today gone are the times of taking care and I really don't need a reason why all I need is all in a day survive in a way or just till tomorrow, there's always one more tomorrow living forever, do you really want to live forever
