

for being you.

Gentle Bones

You'll be on your way
You'll be on your way

Try to have a good day
No pressure
No matter what may come your way
Just have faith
Like "oops", only got one life
Don't have the time for stressing on your mind
No pressure
You'll know you'll be alright

You don't have to be nobody
You don't have to be nobody else but you
Take it slow what's the hurry
Right now is all we really got
You don't have to be him
You don't have to be her
You don't have to be nobody else but you
Don't have to be nobody

Said you don't need to be nobody else
I know you picking pieces by yourself
You just need some time to get over things
Never wanna leave your mind up on a shelf
You'll wake up and change your life in time
You'll make up the things you left behind
Fall down and get back up to try
And make sure to keep yourself in mind

You don't have to be nobody
You don't have to be nobody else but you
Take it slow what's the hurry
Right now is all we really got
You don't have to be him
You don't have to be her
You don't have to be nobody else but you
Don't have to be nobody

Should be looking for your inner peace
Take it slow now you're living all your wildest dreams
Then you'll see yourself living at your own pace
You'll be finding all serenity in your space
Dreams are made to come true
You'll prove it to the world that you can't lose
Can't help making all the right moves
Give it time, it's what you'll do

You don't have to be nobody
You don't have to be him
You don't have to be her
You don't have to be nobody else but you
Don't have to be nobody but

You'll be on your way
You'll be on your way
Nobody else, nobody else but you

You'll be on your way
You'll be on your way
Nobody else, nobody else but you
