

Over You

Geoffroy

Always faking
All self-absorbed in your lies
Can't start to imagine the world in your eyes

'Cause you cover up all your feelings
Trying to come in appealing, yet you're losing out
And what you're trying to conceal, still everybody can see it
It keeps crawling over

Over your body
Over your body and soul
Like it's under your skin, living within you
Over your body
Over your body and soul
Over you

We'll remain strangers
You set yourself apart with too many layers to peel to your heart
I sit and watch, it's kind of mystifying
The way you act and establish contact
All that big talk, even a blind man could see through

Still, you cover up all your feelings
Trying to come in appealing, yet you're wasting time
And what you're trying to conceal still everybody can see it
It keeps crawling over

Over your body
Over your body and soul
Like it's under your skin, living within you
Over your body
Over your body and soul
Over you