

Lovesick Is Benign

George Clanton

Like a diamond stuck in perpetual motion
You're the color into my light
Come on, shine now
Let me into your body
'Cause I'm dying to make it right

You had a bad dream, open your eyes
And I'll love you for the day
You had a bad dream, open your eyes
I'm here to make it go away

You cannot breathe, you cannot cry
But I swear it's alright
It's alright
You cannot breathe, you cannot cry
If you're not seeing but should be fine
Lovesick is benign

In a haunted house or a burning plane
Some scary places to be
A sinking ship that pulls you down
Deeper into the sea

But you're mine as long as you are alive, mm mm mm
Oh, you're fine, as long as you have a heart that still beats i nside

You cannot breathe, you cannot cry
But I swear it's alright
It's alright
You cannot breathe, you cannot cry
If you're not seeing but should be fine
Lovesick is benign

You cannot breathe, you cannot cry
But I swear it's alright
It's alright
You cannot breathe, you cannot cry
If you're not seeing but should be fine
Lovesick is benign
