

Temptation

George Clanton

Oh, temptation

It's the end of us today and I have to say
I need it, no, you need it
You're invited to play, it's a simple game
My love at no exchange

I'm no fool girl, you can't last
Candle hearts, they burn up fast
Love plays tricks that make us strange
Mind rays on the baby's brains

I can tell by the games you're playing
You're fooling me this way
You can tell by the face you're making
(Oh oh oh oh oh)

I believe in the tears you're faking
And all the words you say
Who can tell when the hearts were breaking
(Oh oh oh oh oh, oh)

It's the end of us today and I have to say
I need it, no, you need it
You're invited to play, it's a simple game
Your eyes come back and play

Stick your hand out to me, keep me wanting more
Take a step back and see, who you're looking fo-or

I can tell by the games you're playing
You're fooling me this way
You can tell by the face you're making
Temptation

I believe in the tears you're faking
And all the words you say
Who can tell when the hearts were breaking
Temptation

I can tell by the games you're playing
You're fooling me this way
You can tell by the face you're making
(Oh oh oh oh oh) Temptation

I believe in the tears you're faking
And all the words you say
Who can tell when the hearts were breaking
(Oh oh oh oh oh, oh) Temptation

(Oh oh oh oh oh)
