

Being Together

George Jones

Being together as two friends
This all our love has ever been
Now even our friendship has gone
When we're together we're all alone.

Being together to forget
The ones we loved before we met
But now their mem'ries linger on
When we're together we're all alone.

Being together all this time
With someone else on our mind
For them our love grew stronger as time went by
When we're together we're all alone...
