

LET THERE BE A WOMAN

George Jones

Adam was lonely, and God sent him Eve
He said let there be woman to fill this mans need
Now your names not Eve and our home is no garden
But you're what God intended when He said let there be woman.

Let there be woman to cling to his hand
Let there be woman to stand by her man
And when I am so alone you say I'm only human
Yes, your what God intended when He said let there be woman.

My world was empty so lonely and blue
Serching for someone and God sent me you
When you gave your love to me I must of felt just like Adam
For I knew what God intended when He said let there be woman.

Let there be woman to cling to his hand
Let there be woman to stand by her man
And when I am so alone you say I'm only human
Yes, your what God intended when He said let there be woman...
