

Desire

George Maple

What do I desire? Well, when we answer that question in a naive way, we figure out that we want a desire, uh, what we want is to control everything