

Everybody Here Wants You

George Maple

Twenty-nine pearls in your kiss, a singing smile
Coffee smell and lilac skin, your flame in me
Twenty-nine pearls in your kiss, a singing smile
Coffee smell and lilac skin, your flame in me
I'm only here for this moment

I know everybody here wants you
I know everybody here thinks they need you
But I'll be waiting right here just to show you
How our love will blow it all away

Such a thing of wonder in this crowd
I'm a stranger in this town, you're free with me
And our eyes are locked in downcast love, I sit here proud
Even now you're undressed, then you're free with me
Well, I'm only here for this moment

I know everybody here wants you
I know everybody here thinks they need you
But I'll be waiting right here just to show you
How our love will blow it all away

I know everybody here wants you
I know everybody here thinks they need you
But I'll be waiting right here just to show you
How our love will blow it all away

Twenty-nine pearls in your kiss, a singing smile
Coffee smell and lilac skin, your flame in me
