

A Real Good Place to Start

George Strait

Still reelin' from a relationship
That left me torn in two
Tryin' to find that first step
That leads to someone new
Gettin' me back together
Didn't know it could be so hard
But if I'm ever gonna mend this broken heart
You look like a real good place to start

I need a new beginning
And girl you fit right in
Sometimes a new beginning
Is found in an old friend
If I'm ever gonna mend this broken heart
You look like a real good place to start

There've been times when you and him
Just couldn't get along
I'd hear your knock and let you in
Be your shoulder to cry on
And now he's finally left you
And I've find you in my arms
If I'm ever gonna mend this broken heart
You look like a real good place to start

I need a new beginning
And girl you fit right in
Sometimes a new beginning
Is found in an old friend
If I'm ever gonna mend this broken heart
You look like a real good place to start

If I'm ever gonna mend this broken heart
You look like a real good place to start
