

Risk

Georgia Webster

Knew from the start you were too good
Somehow I thought my chance still stood
You tried your best to reassure me
But those three words just never could, mmh

I guess it's the risk that you take
That your heart's gonna break when it's over
And lately I've been wondering
If the hurt was worth getting to know ya
For all of our good times, I'm spending my nights
Crying alone in my bedroom
I guess it's the risk that you take
When you love someone like I loved you

Wonder if you still miss my friends
Sometimes I wish you never met
'Cause they been asking about you
Wondering where you've been, but
I guess that's just a part of it

I guess it's the risk that you take
That your heart's gonna break when it's over
And lately I've been wondering
If the hurt was worth getting to know ya
For all of our good times, I'm spending my nights
Crying alone in my bedroom
I guess it's the risk that you take
When you love someone like I loved you

Like I loved you
Like I loved you
Oh, I loved you
I loved you

I guess it's the risk that you take
That your life's gonna change when it's over
And lately I've been wondering
If you meant what you said in October
For all of the good times, I'm spending my nights
Wishing that I was in your room
I guess it's the risk that you take
When you love someone like I loved you
I loved you
