

So What

Georgia

So why do I try
A new reason to cry?
Something's telling me
But I've got no energy
I'm feeling the pain, I've been here before now
I think never again, I'm down on the floor now

But so what?
So what if it hurts? I'll still do it again
So what if making mistakes always feels like the end?
I'm always gonna give it one more try
Don't have to be a saint to get it right
So what, so what if we say we don't have to pretend?

Can't even get sleep
Do I need therapy?
Shouldn't have done it
Tell me something
I'm feeling the pain, I've been here before now
I think never again, but I'm down on the floor

But so what, so what if it hurts? I'll still do it again
So what if making mistakes always feels like the end?
I'm always gonna give it one more try
Don't have to be a saint to get it right
So what, so what if we say we don't have to pretend?

Shouldn't have done it
Learnt my lesson the hard way
But still I'm running
And I'll never be the same
I'm feeling the pain
I've been here before now
I think never again
But I'm down on the floor now

But so what, so what if it hurts? I'll still do it again
So what if making mistakes always feels like the end?
I'm always gonna give it one more try
Don't have to be a saint to get it right
So what, so what if we say we don't have to pretend?
