

Dolly

Geowulf

I can't stop thinking
And my hands keep shaking
It's been so long since I saw you
Can you believe we're still here
As we both grow distant
I've stopped counting the times
You let me down

How dare I think you could love me back
How dare I dream of you
Again, again, again
And I pray that you could work out your shit
It's irrelevant
I'm not buying it

I drank all your gin
When I saw you again
But I keep my eyes open
And we sang our hearts out
To Dolly Parton
And my body kept on saying
You're so complicated

How dare I think that you could love me back
How dare I dream of you
Again, again, again
And I pray that you could work out your shit
It's irrelevant
I'm not buying it
It's irrelevant
I'm not buying it

How dare I think that you could love me back
How dare I dream of you
Again, again, again
And I pray that you could work out your shit
It's irrelevant
I'm not buying it
It's irrelevant
I'm over it