

To impress myself would be the hardest trial
Knowing that you're here, I'm in denial
It's gone on for too long to cut and run
Standing here beside me, I had forgotten

I've come so far
Can't get you in my arms, oh
I've come so far
Can't get you in my arms

Gone and come back to the other side
Of knowing it was wrong, but felt so right
I'll never see the time that I'd forsaken
Leaving me with nothing, you were always taken

I've come so far
Can't get you in my arms, oh
I've come so far
Can't get you in my arms

There you go and sail to the sea
Wasn't you, it was me
There you go and sail through the wind
Much too late to begin
There you go and sail to the sea
Wasn't you, it was me
There you go and sail through the wind
Much too late to begin

I've come so far
I can't get you in my arms
I've come so far
Can't get you in my arms, oh
I've come so far
Can't get you in my arms, oh
I've come so far
Can't get you in my arms, oh
I've come so far
Can't get you in my arms
